

Platanos College News

Friday 17th January 2014

Tate South Lambeth Art Exhibition by Year 11

Our Year 11 pupils who graduated last year from the class of 2013 currently have their work on display at the Tate South Lambeth Library.

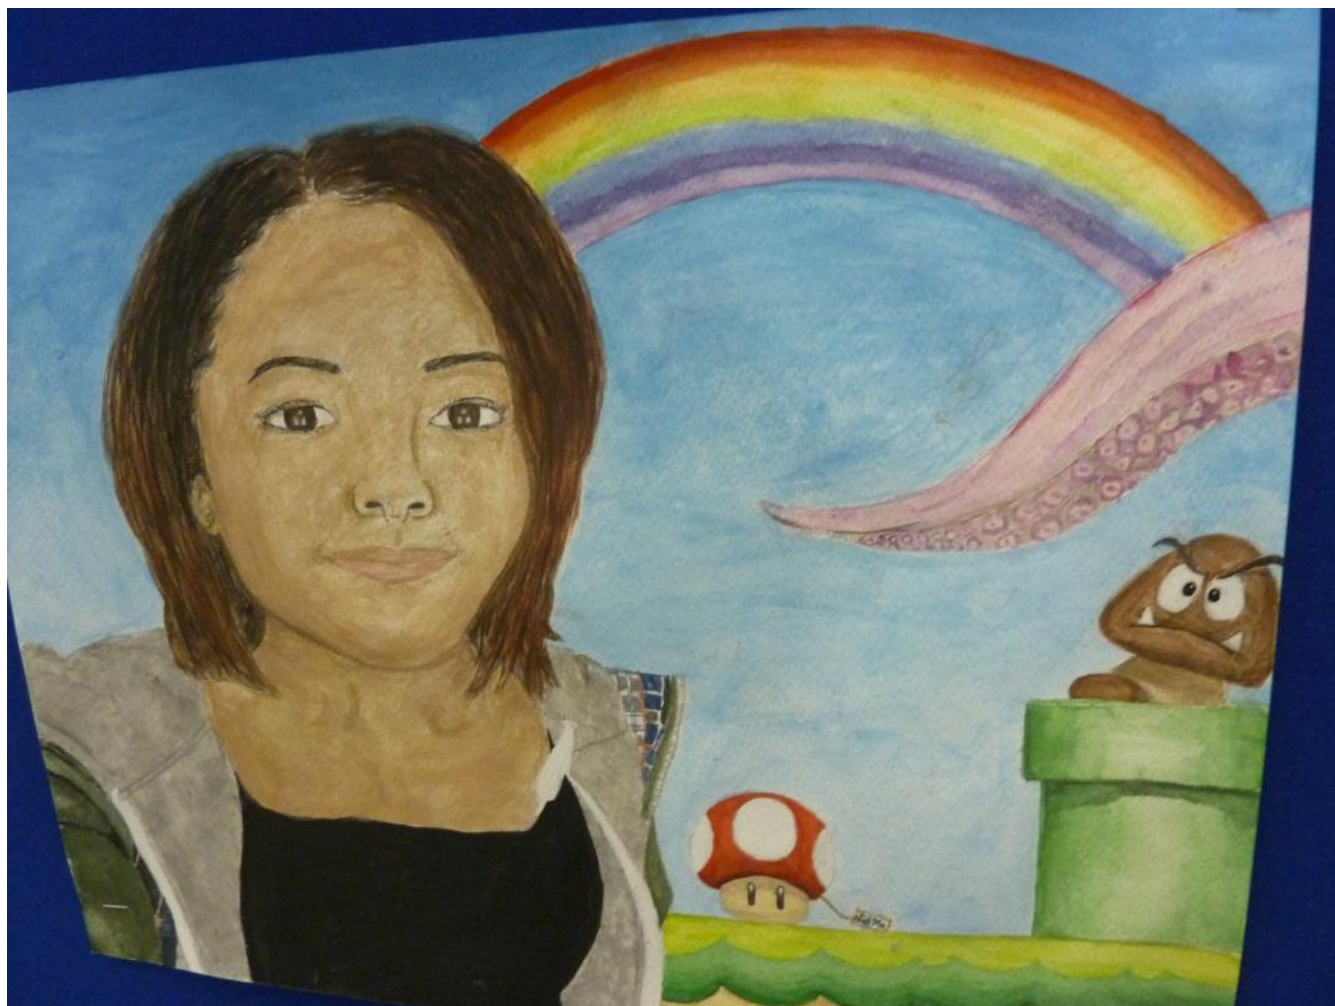

This is a wonderful recognition of their brilliant art work, which will remain on display until mid-February 2014. The pupils have a fantastic range of styles dealing with concepts such as identity, culture and the exam topic 'Force'.

The library will be holding an event for members of the gallery on the 8th February 2014 for National Libraries Day whilst members of the general public can also view the work during normal opening hours at the gallery.

Attitude Determines Altitude

A very well done to our very talented artists!

Further information on the exhibition can be found at the link below.

<http://www.tatesouthlambethfriends.org/page/2/>

Attitude Determines Altitude